Kids in Museums Takeover Day 2016 Planning and Sharing Event

Birmingham Hippodrome

Monday 11th July

11am – 4pm

Want to put young people at the heart of your work? Then come along to a Planning and Sharing event for Takeover Day – the annual day when young people and children nationwide are given powerful, meaningful, decision-making roles within museums, galleries, libraries, archives and heritage sites.

Kids in Museums works with museums, galleries, libraries, archives and heritage sites to make them more welcoming for young people, children and families – particularly those who haven't visited before.

This Planning and Sharing event is being delivered in partnership with West Midlands Museum Development and is free and open to any Accredited museum in the West Midlands or those working towards Accreditation.

West Midlands Museum Development leads and empowers museums within the West Midlands to increase resilience, develop skills and share knowledge to ensure a thriving and exciting sector.
